Welcome!

Every small act at Bilingualistics honors our commitment to each other, to improving the lives of our families, and to providing speech-language pathologists with research-based information that is immediately applicable, and user-friendly.

You may notice a cultural or linguistic component to many of our resources and continuing education courses. Our caseloads, like most nationally, are culturally and linguistically diverse. The success that we have had with our clients has translated into an expansion of our services across Central Texas and an increase in the number of presentations we are invited to give. In the U.S. and abroad.

There is an element of diversity in most caseloads that is not reflected in available speech products, books, and literature. We dive into the current research, apply it with our diverse caseloads, and include the best elements in our products. We are always working to increase the available information and products for working with clients from different linguistic and cultural backgrounds.

Our bright and imaginative team of bilingual speech-language pathologists is based in Austin, Texas. We are vastly different in our individual pursuits but share in our love for international travel, language, and serving clients with communication needs.
